Tom,

Our staff locker room only has the half lockers. It was designed that way to accommodate the large number of staff. I just saw the executive locker room yesterday with Joe Collins. I was surprised that the full length lockers did not have the permanent locks on them. (I thought the original plan was that locker room would be for you, Joe, and Dr. B.) Let me go back to Dave Lesniak and see if we can come up with another idea.

Does the coaches locker room have full length lockers? If so, are there any open/unassigned lockers? I find the renovation of the executive locker room to be inadequate as I thought we were working on getting permanent lockers so as to not having to haul things back and forth from home.
