

Summary of events since 102414 meeting regarding grades needed for new CRIMJ classes

- Week of 10/27/14 I looked at my assigned classes under Faculty for My Access and noticed that the class Multiculturalism & Diversity – CRIMJ2150 had been removed and was no longer assigned to me for grades. This result in the accumulated credit hours being reduced to 18 hours from the original 21 hours as established before the 092614 meeting I called with Tom Brady and Mike Casey on this subject.
- The Personal Defense (1 semester hour) class which relates directly to 52 hours of contact time in the BLE was still not in my assigned classes, despite Mike Casey's comments that we may have to revisit this class.
- October 31, 2014: I sent Tom Brady and Mike Casey the following email advising I reviewed Mike's "Crossover efforts," expressed my concerns about the number of credit hours vs. BLE hours in class and the assessment process. I recommended this issue be forwarded to the curriculum committee.

I spent considerable looking at Mike's notes this week on the three 3 hour credit classes you have assigned to me to award grades. While I see the linkage in many areas between the CRIMJ classes and the BLE curriculum that you discovered in the Crossover process I am still concerned that due to the minimum hours historically that are needed in COD class and some other the other methods used to measure academic achievement (projects and tests) I am still not prepared to assign grades to these classes based on the method my predecessor and I have done it for many years.

Looked at it simplest terms (2400 minutes = 3 semester hours) the 480 BLE curriculum mirrors 12 semester hours of COD credit. 13 semester hours would translate to 520 hours which is the number currently under proposal for the increase in BLE hours that will be implemented in the near future by the training board. However, like I said I could be wrong and the present BLE hours may result in the increased amount of credit hours you have recalculated. My recommendation would be to have these additional credit classes and the existing classes evaluated by the curriculum committee to determine if my concerns are incorrect.

As of today, (111414) both Tom and Mike have not responded to this email.

- Week of 11/03/14, I completed Mid-Term verifications for students in BA 15-02. I noticed that Rules of Evidence – CRIMJ1153 and Criminal Investigation – CRIMJ2230 was still assigned to me and I verified mid-term for these classes as well.
- 11/12/14: A/Dean Hunnicutt communicated with me via email and told me to complete mid-term verifications that she saw were missing. I advised her all my assigned classes had this process completed. After a few email exchanges she confirmed this.
- 11/14/14: I looked at my assigned classes and noticed that Tom Brady was now listed under my name as Instructor for two classes (Rules of Evidence – CRIMJ1153 and Criminal Investigation – CRIMJ2230) of recruits who attended BA #15-01 and final grades were assigned to both classes. I did not assign these grades. I can only assume Mr. Brady an Associate Dean with no student contact or discussion with me assigned these grades. It should be noted that the remainder of my assigned classes, a total of six (6) classes only have me listed as the Instructor and not Associate Dean Brady. I also noticed that Rules of Evidence – CRIMJ1153 is only listed in the calendar term for the students / Recruits who were in BA 15-01 and not the present class, BA 15-02 in contrast to Criminal Investigation – CRIMJ2230 which is assigned to students / recruits in both BA 15-01 and BA 15-02.
