

June 11, 2025

Dear Commissioner Chan,

Enclosed are the unredacted attorney invoices for the period May 22, 2020 to May 22, 2025 as you requested. The invoices contain information protected by the attorney-client privilege, which safeguards confidential communication between the Board and its attorneys, Robbins Schwartz.

Please note that although you have authorized access to these materials in your official capacity as a Commissioner, the attorney-client privilege continues to apply fully. The invoices and their subject matter remain confidential and privileged. You are not authorized to copy or share the invoices, or disclose the privileged information contained therein, to any party outside of the privileged relationship, which consists of the currently serving Park Commissioners, the Executive Director and members of the Park District staff with a need to know.

You are not authorized to share or disclose the invoices or the information contained in them with any member(s) of the public, other public officials, other attorneys, or the press. You may not post any of the information contained in the invoices on the internet or social media.

The attorney-client privilege is a legal protection designed to encourage open and honest communication between clients and their legal counsel. Unauthorized disclosure of attorney-client privileged information by a Board member is a breach of the Board member's fiduciary duty to the Board and will have legal consequences.

Thank you for your cooperation and understanding in maintaining the confidentiality of this privileged information.

Sincerely,

Laure L. Kosey
Executive Director
